

Conquer your college applications in 3 easy steps

1 Find your schools

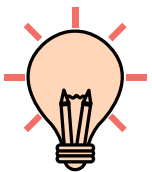

Take charge of your search by making a list. What are the things that matter to you? Look for schools that have locations, majors, clubs and communities that fit your personality and interests.

2 Go beyond your classes

To give your résumé a boost, be curious and start exploring beyond your classes. It's not about grades, it's about learning. What are your interests outside of the classroom?

3 Tell your stories

Now it's time to start your essays. The best way to help colleges learn about you is by telling a real story from your life! Who are you, what do you care about and what actions have you taken that show it?

Ready to start your essays?

Sign up for free help at Story2.com/DSL